Roy Lichtenstein is a pop artist who took comics and bubble gum wrappers, blew them up, and painted them in a style that gave the art movement.

There is a lot of controversy around his art. Beings he took someone elses art and changed it, some people think it is just stealing work. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Growing up, Roy Lichtenein didn't even start to draw or paint until he was a junior in high school. At this time he was very interested in Jazz, so most of his work was on the local jazz artists.
